

Technical due diligence

As part of an overall due diligence process applied in buying and selling of property, technical due diligence includes physical inspection of buildings and associated infrastructure to confirm their overall status as well as to determine the value of property.

Our services include:

- Site status inspection;
- Technical documentation inspection;
- Cost estimation;
- Operational cost analysis;
- Consultations provided by skillful specialists in construction and installation.